

June 4th, 2024

OBJECT: ANNOUNCEMENT

Dear customer,

We're pleased to announce Alfa Valvole enters Interpump Group, which acquired 100% of the shares of our company on 3 June 2024.

Interpump Group, with a turnover that exceeded 2.2 billion euros in 2023, is the world's leading manufacturer of high and very high pressure pumps founded in 1977 thanks to the ingenuity and entrepreneurship of Dr. Fulvio Montipò.

Through a significant series of acquisitions, the company has expanded its presence by diversifying into high-growth sectors, consolidating itself as one of the leading industrial groups active in global markets.

Alfa Valvole has consolidated its activities in recent years by integrating the production site of OBL Dosing Pumps and reaching a global turnover of almost 30 million in 2023. The opening of new markets has contributed to identifying new opportunities and the company currently exports over 45 % of its sales abroad.

Daniele Di Cesare, General Director of Alfa Valvole, who will join Interpump together with the rest of the management and all the employees of Alfa Valvole and OBL, commented: "Interpump is the most suitable strategic partner to support our long-term growth term, we are eager to begin the process of integrating into our new reality. As part of the Interpump Group we will have the opportunity to intensify both the constant commitment to develop and strengthen the professionalism of our people, and accelerate the growth of investments in the research, development and innovation of new products with the firm objective of keeping our customers at the center of corporate strategies."

Sincerely,
Alfa Valvole Srl